BETHEL HISTORICAL SOCIETY

This week the Bethel Historical Society has received gifts of 34 yards of pennies: 13 yards were given by Grace Merrill and 21 yards by two anonymous donors.

Members and friends of the Society are reminded that this Thursday evening, Warren Percival of Andover, will be the guest speaker at the regular meeting to be held at the Casco Bank Community Room. His subject is "Wild River and Hastings".

COMMENTS FROM THE OFFICE OF THE TOWN MANAGER

Mr. Gagnon, who has done the appraising here in Bethel for several years has started doing this year's work. He can do this only in his spare time so it will be into the summer before he finishes.

The local assessors voted to raise all land values 5%. As this entails changing each property card plus the work books Mrs. Wheeler will be working a day or two a week until the project is completed.

We received a bill for overhauling the loader which totaled $4,506.03. In addition to this we paid $495.00 for the rental of a machine to replace our's while it was being repaired. Having to purchase a new block and head increased the bill over the original estimate. The machine has not been used on any hard work since it was returned to us but with the exception of some relatively minor items which the company that overhauled it are working on, it appears to be in very good operating condition.

DIRECTORS 'TABLE' REFORM PROPOSALS AT MONDAY SESSION

All board members and approximately 80 District citizens were present at the regular meeting of the board of directors of School Administrative District 44 held at Andover on Monday evening of this week.

Superintendent Ralph K. Ryder read proposals made by Woodstock Director Robert Day, as follows:

- Proposed to revert immediately to four (4) ranking periods per school year with appropriate rank cards to be signed by parent or guardian and returned to the school. Warning slips and requests for consultations to be mailed to parent or guardian, and to originate with respective teachers. (Follow-ups to be maintained in principal's office. Suggest phone call to parent if no response from parent within one week.)
- Proposed to allow "unstructured" time only to those students whose ranks indicate they have earned this privilege. (Suggest ranks above 80 in all subjects.)
- Proposed to revert to a traditional proven English curriculum with strong emphasis on vocabulary building, English composition, speech and literature of a recognized lasting value.

Mr. Ryder recommended the following action on these proposals:

Board Policy: a. That present ranking system used at Telstar Regional High School be continued, but modified to include a periodic summation of grades to parents; this report to be made to parents 2-3 times per year. Administrative Procedure: Warning notices to be sent to parents by instructor when a student is failing, with a request for a conference between parent or guardian, student and instructor.

b. Administrative Procedure: That unstructured time for students be left to the discretion of the teachers and high school administrator involved, with guidelines for unstructured time to be clearly defined.

Board Policy: c. That the present English curriculum at Telstar Regional High School be modified to strengthen those areas in the curriculum that need to be strengthened.

Following Mr. Ryder's presentation, Eddie Snyder, director from Andover, read the following statement:

"Before discussion starts on the following articles, I would like to point out that first of all I don't feel that these items should come before the Board. The reasons are as follows:

"1. The Superintendent and his staff have been aware of these problems for quite awhile. They are in reality growing pains due to our new program. Changes have been made in the past, are being made now and will continue to be made until the program fits the need of the students and the educational system."

GREENWOOD CITY

Mrs. Colista Morgan, Corres.
It was sunrise in the pond. Early dawn—breathless silence. Then out of the blue once again they came—the ducks—down the pathway of our day, slender and graceful. Faced with challenge there they swam welcoming the dawn. They greeted the song birds as they came through the air and nestled on the water so blue. They seemed to say, "I have my name on this water and all that I see was made for me."

Motionless clouds gave reflections and over all, the pink of the morning.
The earth is a temple of wonder and each morning brings new loveliness. From our window and over our morning coffee we find beauty in simple things; trees with graceful branches waving, shadows moving along the carpet of old Mother earth, mountains in veils of blue, light billowing clouds, and numberless birds and flowers. Spring exhibits and brings promise of a new cycle of time and of life.

LECTURE AT GOULD — Rev. Daniel Linehan, Liz McClellan, and Peter Martin, after Father Linehan's illustrated lecture at Gould Academy on Monday, April 21.

The Reverend Daniel Linehan, Director of Boston College's Western Observatory and department of Geophysics, spoke at Gould Academy in Bingham Hall on Monday afternoon, April 21. Father Linehan has accompanied three expeditions to the Antarctic. His colored slides which illustrate his lecture are some of the best pictures ever taken of the Antarctic; "both the grimness and the beauty of this strange continent."

Gould students, faculty, 55 guests from Telstar Regional High School science classes with Mr. Arsenault, their instructor, enjoyed Father Linehan's illustrated lecture and verbal description of the little-known continent.

Father Linehan's work on these expeditions, his observations illustrated with slides, and his narration of personal experiences were informative and entertaining. He concluded with the thought that amidst the vastness of the continent where powerful forces of nature were at work, a man feels small. "And, when a

"The Devil in Harbour," by Catherine Gavin. An exciting and romantic novel about World War I which culminated in that most controversial of sea battles, the Battle of Jutland.

"The Philby Conspiracy," by Page, Lefsch and Nightly. Kim Philby, a Communist agent, penetrated the British secret service so effectively that in 1944 he became the director of its counter-Soviet department—a feat of duplicity unequalled in the annals of espionage. It is a fantastic tale and is perhaps the most startling, spy book written in the last decade.

"The Avenue," by R. F. Delderfield. A novel for those who have revelled in the Barchester stories of Anthony Trollope and, more recently, the saga Mazo de la Roche wrote about the White Oak family of Jalna.

man begins to feel small, he begins to grow." The outstanding feature of his experiences and memories Father Linehan concludes, is the caliber of the men who make up these expeditions

SNOW TWISTERS HOLD FINAL MEETING OF SEASON

The last meeting of the Bethel Snow Twisters of the season was called to order by Vice President Ben Kellogg on April 21. The club voted to send Lee Blake to Boys State. His alternate is Andy Davis. Judy Angevine will be sent to Girls' State. However, at this late date there is the possibility that they will not be able to get them in.

The Snow Twisters decided to enter a float in the Mollycoddett Day parade. Ben Kellogg will be our representative and attend the committee meeting on May 7. Several suggestions were offered, but nothing definite decided upon.

Floyd Thurston won our fifty dollar prize. Every meeting the members who attended were given a slip of paper on which to write their name. At the end of the season, a fifty dollar prize was to be given to the person whose name was drawn. This was done to promote attendance.

A summer steak feed will be held August 11 for the members of the club, with details handled by the Activity Committee. R.S.V.P. cards will be sent out to all current members before that date. The cards will not be meal tickets and enable the committee to have a good idea of the number attending.

At the American Legion Auxiliary meeting it was voted to donate to the Cancer drive.

The following officers were elected for next year: President, Lucia Smith; 1st Vice President, Ramona Lowe; 2nd Vice President, Adeline Clough; Secretary, Josephine Tripp; Treasurer, Selma Chapman; Historian, Rose Taylor; Chaplain, Iola Forbes; Sgt.-at-Arms, Laura Inman.

The president appointed as Auditing Committee: Stephanie Thurston, Edith Smith, Ramona Lowe.

Mabel Robertson reported in the CMG Hospital.

Iola Forbes, the Foreign Relations Committee, had a program of six members reading articles about Malaysia.

"Probation After Death" is the subject of Sunday's Christian Science Bible Lesson-Sermon which will be heard at First Church of Christ Scientist, Main and Tenth Sts., Berlin, N. H., at 11 a. m.

"Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that heareth my word, and believeth on him that sent me, hath everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation; but is passed from death unto life." This verse in the Responsive Reading is from John 5.

A correlative passage from the denomination's textbook states: "If man is never to overcome death, why do the Scriptures say, 'The last enemy that shall be destroyed is death'?" The tenor of the Word shows that we shall obtain the victory over death in proportion as we overcome sin" ("Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy).

MUNDT-ALLEN UNIT,
AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY TO SPONSOR POPPY CONTEST

The Auxiliary of the Mundt-Allen Post, American Legion, is announcing the annual Poppy Poster Contest which will be in effect from April 25 to May 12, 1969. This year the contest will consist of one class for pupils in Grades 4, 5, and 6. Local cash prizes will be awarded to the winners and there will be a national prize of $100 for the best poster in this class. The poster paper will be provided by the Auxiliary and distributed by the teachers.

The poppy symbolizes our remembrance of the sacrifices made by those who fought to keep our nation free. As Spring approaches we reach this beautiful month of May when millions of Americans will wear the little red crepe paper poppy to honor our dead and help the living veterans and their families.
Poppies made by our veterans seen blooming in hospital wards come forth on Poppy Day and rest over every loyal American's heart where the memory of great sacrifices made by many is forever enshrined.

Look well into the tiny face of the single red paper poppy. It shines with broadened love; fulfillment of hopes; payment for education; of household bills; thought for others; substantial support for loved ones, and the answer to dreams. Can any other flower mean so much and stand for so much as this little red paper poppy.

The poppy cannot speak, but its courageous red color glows in success. It needs you to help.

It is hoped the students interested in entering the poppy poster contest can use the preceding descriptions in making their poppy posters more meaningful and striking.

TELSTAR GIRLS TO ATTEND F.

H. A. STATE CONVENTION—(Left to Right)—Seated: Leonora West-leigh, Katrina Lowe, voting delegate, Anita Young, District E Chairman, and Janis Kennagh, State Parliamentarian. Standing: Margaret Sylvester, Ruth Durgin, Penny Twitchell, Sally Deegan, Karen Balley, and Elaine Conner. Absent when picture was taken: Bethany Andrews and Beverly York.

This Saturday the above group representing the Telstar chapter of the Future Homemakers of America will attend the F. H. A. State Convention at Brunswick High School.
The group will be accompanied by Mrs. Thelma Dombkowski, home economics instructor, and Mrs. Roger Conant and Mrs. Thomas Kennagh, chapter mothers. District E Chairman, Anita Young, and State Parliamentarian, Janis Kennagh, will go to Brunswick Friday evening to work on the planning council.

During the program on Saturday Janis Kennagh will present a skit entitled "Involvement of More Members" as her portion of the State Officers' Project Reports. Participating in the skit, besides Janis, will be the following six girls: Ruth Durgin, Katrina Lowe, Margaret Sylvester, Penny Twitchell, Leonora Westleigh, and Beverly York. Janis Kennagh and Bethany Andrews will perform a dance as part of the devotions.

off just as much in there as on their own.

Another thing is that you have more of a chance to speak with teachers. In the old system, there was one period marked off for this purpose. Believe me; it was murder trying to see a teacher. There were always a lot of kids waiting in line.
You were lucky if you got a chance to speak at all. Here at Telstar, both the student and the teacher have more time to talk with one another.

I also feel the system is good because it enables students to get to know each other better. I have taken the business course since I started high school. It always seemed that there was a big barrier between the business and college students. In the old system we never got a chance to see each other for we never had classes together. Here at Tel-star, there isn't that barrier for we get to meet and talk in the cafeteria and many times have classes together, such as English. During this year, I've gotten to know a lot more people because of it. I feel that it is important for us all to know each other and be able to work together. It helps to better the school if the student body is joined together.

Instead of working to get rid of the present system, I feel that we should join together and contribute ideas for making the system work. The majority of the student body and teachers feel that this system is best.
We can't all be wrong, so why not go by our judgement, and stick with it. After all, it's your adults that are always saying, "Don't give up the ship."

Beverly York

A friend of mine and myself decided that instead of sitting back and wondering why things are the way they are, that we should attend a meeting of our School Administrative District and see if we could learn a few things. This new system of teaching doesn't meet with my approval, as it stands right now, so I felt that I should try to learn all I can about it, and this was my reason for attending the meeting April 21st. We had been told that meetings of this type were open to the public and they urged parents to attend. It had even been insinuated that because people didn't attend these meetings meant that they were not interested.

I'd like to let all you readers in on a little secret—we weren't exactly what you call welcomed with open arms—maybe open mouths—but not warmly welcomed as we had been told we would be. The board seemed bothered by our presence.
Why should they be? It's my children as well as mine's, and my money as well as theirs that's at stake.
I'd say we had a common interest.
What can be so secretive about hiring a teacher, paying an oil bill, or choosing a different title for a book to be used in English. These people were so shook-up they were voting on last years budget—approving an application for a person seeking a job who is already working for the school district and has been for some time. In other words, they were wasting time, until it be convenient to get rid of the spectators. Anything that was brought up of any consequence was tabled until some future date. We were eliminated as soon as possible.

This brought to mind, trying to sit in on a selectmen's meeting in Bethel, at which interested citizens are most welcome, until they appear.
Of course, that's water under the

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

As a student at Telstar Regional High School, I am quite concerned with the proposed changes in the running of the school during the coming year. Although I am a senior this year, I do care what happens to it after I leave.

I feel that the modular system presently in force is much better than the old set-up where the day is marked off in 45-minute periods.
I have been to both types of schools and, therefore, feel that I have a right to judge them.

I'm not saying that the old system is all bad, nor am I saying that the new one is all good. I'm the first to admit that the modular system has many flaws. I just feel that this system hasn't been given a fair chance.

Being students from many different schools, we have found it very hard to get used to each other and our different ideas. If we students can't seem to get along with each other, how can the towns expect us to be able to accept a completely new system in such a short time.

I feel that the towns should give the system four years. By that time, there will be no barriers between the kids from different schools, for they will have started out at the same school and know each other. With no conflicts of ideas from the various schools, the students will be able to work together easily, therefore making the system work.

If at the end of the four years, the towns find that the students haven't gotten a good education and learned to be responsible adults, then they can chuck the whole idea and go back to the old system.

Some people would probably say, "Why wait 'till then to chuck it? By that time a lot of kids' educations can suffer!" This is definitely the wrong attitude to take. If everyone felt this way, there would never be any progress!

I feel that instead of giving up on the idea, (as many people have) we should work to better the system.
Compared to the old set-up, the modular system has many advantages. For one thing, it teaches you responsibility. Your day isn't all mapped out for you. You have to use your own judgement as to what to do during your spare time. No one is there to tell you you have to do this or that; it's up to you. Of course, there are always a few who goof off but it won't do any good to stick them in a study hall. They'll goof

20 SECONDS WITH THE NAZARENE

I have offered my services to a living Jesus, and therefore I do not fear the future. The price may be great, seen from the human standpoint, but what I have committed to Jesus, is the only safe thing I own. I have nothing to lose; I have won everything in Him. If you haven't committed your life fully to Jesus, then you have nothing to win —you have already lost everything...

bridge, and back in the "olden-days" when Bethel couldn't possibly afford to furnish transportation for High School students. A great many of them had to walk. Bethel has taken great strides forward since then. Would you believe, that this has all taken place in the last few years. By the appearance of things we must be a lot better off financially now! I hope so.

Telstar has a board of 17 directors. What specifically are their duties? Do they represent the area from which they were chosen, or do they go on their own opinion alone? Between the new and old members it seems like a house divided. One of the new members brought up an issue of interest to his section of town—with a petition of 150 people to back his statement—this was quickly pushed aside and he was told that he should be interested in the majority and 150 people were not majority, however 150 people from Woodstock may come nearer to being a majority than the moderator thought. It was even insinuated that the list of names might be fictitious. This committee doesn't even trust its fellow members—so how can they work compatibly together? And if they don't trust each other why should I put a lot of faith and trust in their decisions. Our children's future is in their hands and I'm not at all convinced that their judgement is as good as mine. They find it extremely difficult, it seems, to make up their minds. They vote for something today and rush like mad to call a special meeting so they can vote against it the next day. How can you possibly be for and against something at the same time? If this committee has a dictator—we might as well dissolve the committee as its purpose is defeated. Something changed their minds in a hurry.

I suppose there's a lot to be said for the fact that they got around to vote, because at the meeting I attended every item of importance was tabled until some future date. Probably it was taken up an hour later after they got rid of the spectators! I do hope they got around to dig out that one about "rank cards", as that was tabled earlier in the evening, too. I suggest if they don't have anything to rank them on they might give a little homework to do. The average student 14 to 18 is not mature enough to be their own boss—and I see no sin in reserving the right to enforce a few study hours. This price in dollars is going to be the same whether our children learn anything or not. I think it is more than wasteful to allow them to roam the halls and let it be up to them whether they open a book or not. Just how much would we have studied if it had been left entirely up to us? I'd like to know what percentage of the students benefit by this free time? Without a doubt, some probably put this time to good advantage, but what percentage? I think this free time should be earned and given only if the students ranks are up. Otherwise, if their ranks aren't up, it indicates very clearly to me that this time should be spent studying.

I guess to put it bluntly, I'm a little disappointed in all this PROGRESS. That is what they call it, isn't it? I wonder if anyone else feels the same way.

Dear S. A. D. 44 Parents:
Having attended the S. A. D. 44 Board of Directors meeting, I feel I must write this letter.

I recommend that all parents attend just to see how the meeting is run and the attitude of the people we have voted into office. Too many things of real importance are tabled, passed over, and time spent on inconsequential things.

Twenty minutes on a motion, which was previously worked out by the finance committee, voted on and accepted by the entire board, OK'd by the vote of the people, to be brought up again shows this to be a complete waste of time.

Insinuation of fraud on the part of the chairman for names on a petition is unnecessary. I may not agree with all parts of the petition but it was presented by an honest, christian man. The petition may not be a cross section of S. A. D. 44, but something to consider non the less. Since we are the tax payers, interested parents and citizens, I feel all meetings should be open to the public—no secret meetings after we are told to leave. We should know exactly how our elected officials vote and why. Let's call a spade a spade. It is time to be on one side or the other but not sit on the fence and blow with the wind. Let's be honest.

Everyone has the right of free choice to change his or her mind, but in so important an issue as dismissal you can't be one way now and another way in forty-eight hours. You are either for or against it.

I am aware that spectator comments during a meeting could be disruptive but before adjourning it would seem gallery comments would be useful to the board members.

If we are interested enough to attend we should be kept fully informed, not asked to leave, what ever our motives are for being there. If we truly didn't care we would not go.

tem. These changes are brought about not because a needed change is evident to us, but because needed change is far more evident to our Administrators.

"2. We have presently very competent Administrators whose educational background and training expertly qualifies them to recognize these problems and make the necessary changes without it becoming a matter for the Board. It should not become a policy of the Board to institute changes in our educational system of this type.

"3. It has become evident in several meetings now, that items have been brought before us without any previous investigations of any kind, particularly without checking with the administration to see what action has been taken or will be taken. This is not only unfair to the Administration, but to the Board itself.

This wasted time and effort could well be put to better use. There are all together too many meetings ended without the agenda being completed - too many important items are left for discussion at a later date."

Mr. Snyder then moved that these articles up for discussion be tabled at this time so that the administration of the educational system can resume through its natural and intended course through the administration. Malcolm Packard of Greenwood seconded the motion.

Roderick Sidelinger, another of the Andover directors, read the following statement in support of the Snyder motion.

"Unstructured Time - This, too, should be left to the administration. They are the ones who really know how this is working out, and they are the ones to make any changes that are necessary. I believe we, as a Board, have approved this new modern concept in education at the secondary level. The vote at the last annual budget meeting clearly indicated that the majority of the people in S. A. D. #44 were in favor of how our school is being operated.

At this meeting, there was a well-organized group who planned on cutting the budget, but this was soundly defeated by nearly three to one margin. All of the teachers and students I have talked to are tremendously impressed with Telstar High School. If we let this article pass, we, as directors, are not carrying out the wishes of the taxpayers, students, and staff of S. A. D. #44. Complaints should be made to the administration, not the directors.

"English Curriculum - Too much has already been said about this at past meetings, and I believe this has already been voted on and settled. It looks like certain people are trying to ridicule our administrators, teachers, students and the rest of the Board of Directors. We must put a stop to these 'letters to the Editors' and these petitions being passed around. These petitions do not show a good cross section of the voters, as they are given to just a select group. I am under the impression that we should be acting as a board, not as individuals. We had a good school started, but if we allow a small minority to dictate to us and our staff, we may as well close the school. We will always have a discontented staff and discontented students. Discontentment breeds resentment; and beyond that, who knows what. We hired our administrators and teachers - let's back them."

The board then voted to table the proposals by a 14 to 3 margin.

Mrs. Katherine Davis, head of the English department at Telstar, presented the proposed English curriculum for grades 7-12 for the 1969-70 school year.

A proposal that the directors approve the position of teacher's aide before the position is filled was passed over by a vote of 14 to 3.

Roger Spugnardi, administrative assistant in charge of elementary education, spoke about the duties and functions of a teacher's aide.

The directors approved unanimously the nomination of Mrs. Mary B. Brown to be teacher's aide at the Ethel Blabec School for the remainder of this school year.

Also approved unanimously was a proposal by Newry director, Robert Davis, for a tree-planting project at Since this is National Library Week is seems appropriate to present these pictures of the Telstar Library: Picture No. 1 shows a student signing in at the card catalogue, with the large planter, which serves as a traffic divider, in the foreground. In picture No. 2 students are seen studying at one of the many tables. These tables have dark laminated tops and furnish a smooth surface upon which to write. In the background can be seen a part of the history section of the library. No. 3 shows students at one of the two sets of carrels. Each set has six divisions, equipped with electrical outlets for use of tape recorders, etc. Here it is possible for a student to study by himself without being distracted by others. The carrels, which have proved very popular, were designed by Superintendent Ralph Ryder. The next picture (No. 4) shows students in the browsing area of the library. The four red upholstered chairs form a comfortable area for reading or study when no writing is involved. In picture No. 5 we see students at the main desk signing out books from Diane Walker, student librarian and president of the Library Club. The final picture (No. 6) shows the Library display window where displays of new books or other materials can be viewed from the corridor outside.
